SEPTEMBER 2009

G-20 Brings Spotlight, Gridlock to Pittsburgh

The G-20 economic summit is scheduled for September 24 and 25 and Edgewood residents should start planning for the event now. Around 4,000 attendees will descend on downtown Pittsburgh, bringing media, protestors and security personnel along with them. While no specific details have been released about street closures, expect travel downtown, in Oakland and the North Side to be limited. If you work in any of these areas, you may want to discuss alternate plans with your employer. Though it will not affect Woodland Hills School District, be aware that Pittsburgh City Schools will close during the summit.

There will be limited access to downtown through bus and trolley lines. The Port Authority of Allegheny County wants riders to know that there will be detours the entire week of September 21-25. They also want riders to understand that there will most likely be unexpected service changes during the week. The most up to the minute information on route changes can be tracked by signing up for the Port Authority's email notifications at <http://www.portauthority.org/>.

David L. Lawrence Convention Center

Another important consideration during the week is access to healthcare. It may be difficult to reach your doctor's office or hospital if it is located in or near downtown. In an urgent care situation, you may want to consider heading to a healthcare provider that is located east of Edgewood. It may be a good idea to have a list of providers that accept your insurance on hand. If you have a doctor's appointment during the week of the summit, call your doctor's office to see if other arrangements can be made to ensure your healthcare is continued without interruption.

George Fuller Joins Council

Edgewood Borough Council appointed George Fuller as Andrew Szefi's replacement during the June 15 council meeting. George is no stranger to the council, he has served as Edgewood's representative to the Wilkesburg-Penn Joint Water Authority Board for over seven years. "George has been a dedicated representative for Edgewood to the water authority," said Council President Patricia Schaefer. "His dedication to the community and his thoughtful and thorough discernment is very much respected by all of council."

George is a chemist for a small industrial water treatment firm which led to his volunteer position with the water authority. When council member Andrew Szefi moved, it was a natural progression for George to fill in since he attends meetings once a month and he is running for council in the upcoming election. Vice President Heidi McDonald believes George is someone with a great interest in and dedication to the community. "Owing to the fact that his learning curve will be shorter due to council attendance, and he is on November's ballot, he was the best possible choice to fill this vacancy," she said. "We look forward to working with George in his new position and welcome him."

George is a native of Edgewood, is a graduate of Edgewood High School, and has lived in the area for most of his life. "My mother taught in the Edgewood School District," he said. "There are still people living here that she taught in the first and second grade, which amazes me."

During his appointment George says he would like to continue the work that council has been doing. "Edgewood is still considered a very safe community," he said. "It has a very efficient and friendly police department. The fire department is a good group of people. The current council has done an amazing job. There are a tremendous amount of challenges that face the incoming council. I would like to be part of finding solutions for those challenges."

After attending council meetings for years George has come away with a deep respect for the work council members do. "I think a lot of times people don't realize the amount of time council members put in on their behalf," he said. "I just want to say thank you to the current members before they leave. They have been an extremely effective and good group of people."

Library

Book Donations

Help us stretch our library purchasing dollar! If you have purchased a recently published book or audio book, especially a best seller, consider donating it to the library once you've read it. These books are in high demand and this year your library is not in the position to be able to buy multiple copies of the same title. Your gift will help a neighbor keep up with the latest in literature.

We are happy to write tax letters for your gift. We also collect books year round for the library's book sale.

Financial Workshop Series

"Your Finances: Protecting What's Important" is a lecture series for anyone contemplating retirement or who is already retired. The free workshops will be offered on five consecutive Wednesdays in the Edgewood Community House living room beginning September 23 at 6:30 p.m. You may participate in one or all of the workshops. Advance registration is suggested but not required. Call the library at (412) 731-0909 to register. The library is working with Edward Jones Investments to present this series.

We ask that you report your steps once a week. Wise Walk is sponsored by C.C. Mellor, the Allegheny County Library Association, Highmark, and AARP.

since it was created in 1981.

The Woodland Hills Academy, a new paradigm of education for the 21st century, has a longer school day, a longer school year, and the students will wear uniforms. Those are just three of the more obvious differences between the academy and the five other elementary schools in the district. Foreign language and cultural study (Spanish) beginning in kindergarten, a global curriculum, and innovative instructive technology are a few of the other advantages for this unique school.

Many of the innovations being piloted at the academy are to be implemented in the broader school population in the district over time.

When students were moved from the former East Junior High to the Woodland Hills Junior High in Swissvale, the school building was not utilized for a year. There was concern on the part of residents that the property may be neglected and become an eyesore.

But WHSD Superintendent Dr. Walter M. Calinger saw the potential of the building the very first time he visited it. "It just struck me as a beautiful building in a great setting that was obviously supported and appreciated by the community. There were so many tangible assets to the school: it has an acoustically sound auditorium, a swimming pool, a great library and music rooms. It also has great accessibility for the community."

The Academy staff and Principal Reginald Hickman feel a real sense of excitement and pride in this new educational venture. "We all feel honored and excited about embarking on this new adventure together as a team. Opening a new school has demanded a lot of hard work, inspiration and perspiration from a lot of district people, but when we catch that first glimpse of our students coming in the door on Monday, I know we'll all feel it was well worth the effort," summed up Mr. Hickman.

In Search of Lost Championships

The Woodland Hills School District has undertaken a project to celebrate its athletic history, including its pre-merger history. The district is asking anyone who has knowledge of championships that were won by schools that became part of the Woodland Hills School District to contact Korie Morton-Rozier in the Athletics Office at (412) 244-1100 ext. 5141 or by email at mortko@whsd.net. The plan is to purchase banners that will be hung in the new high school gymnasium to honor these teams. Following is a list of the championships that have been confirmed by the WPIAL.

Edgewood Foundation

Sleep Under the Stars

Sleep Over in the Park is scheduled for September 12 at 6 p.m. This is a great free event for parents and their children. Foundation members will be putting up tents and lighting a bon fire, with the help of the firemen, at Koenig Field. This event is for Edgewood residents only. RSVP must be done through email, info@edgewoodfoundation.org, by September 7. Space is limited so please RSVP promptly.

New to Edgewood?

The Newcomers Reception is scheduled for September 17 from 7 to 9 p.m. at 126 Hawthorne. This event is free and open to anyone that is new to the borough. It is a great chance to meet borough officials and club leaders while meeting new neighbors.

Beautifying the Entrance to Edgewood

The foundation will be beautifying the Edgewood sign at the parkway, along with the help of some local contractors over the fall season. Great changes are being planned as part of the foundation's 25th birthday project. You can donate to this beautification project on the foundation website, <http://www.edgewoodfoundation.org>, via Paypal. Look for a beautiful entrance to Edgewood from the parkway this fall/spring as this project starts to take root!

A Celebration 25 Years in the Making

The Edgewood Foundation is celebrating its twenty fifth anniversary this year. They kicked off the celebration at Community Day, Saturday, August 15, when over 250 cupcakes were shared. The foundation has a long and wonderful history of exciting events, programs and projects. It all started in 1984 when the Edgewood Foundation was created with left over from funds from court costs after the merger of the Edgewood School District into the Woodland Hills School District. Our neighbors generously decided that the extra money should be used for the benefit of the community at large. Almost $20,000 was deposited into a special fund, the Edgewood Fund of the Pittsburgh Foundation. 501 C3 non-profit status was granted to the fledgling organization and seven members of the community were asked to serve on the initial board. Lois Winslow, the only woman named to the board is still serving. In the next few newsletter editions, Lois will share some of the memories that she has from her 25 years of volunteer service. It is fun to look back, but it is not just the past the Edgewood Foundation is celebrating. It is the future and what else we can do!

Join the Pack

News from Wilkins School Community Center

FYI...Wilkins Community Center now has WIFI. That's not all that is new. There are many new classes and events this fall. Brush up your bridge on Monday evenings from 7-8:30 p.m. Regent Square residents Kathy Mulligan and Dan McKinley will coordinate this class, which is designed for people who already know the rules, but may not have played in a while. Christine Manges will teach a beginner Colonial Rug Braiding class on Tuesday nights from 7- 9 p.m. This is a uniquely American craft that started out of necessity and has grown into an art form. With simple tools and wool clothing cast-offs, you can make a beautiful and useful object that will be an heirloom for your family. Learn printmaking with Francine Vandenberg in a two-session workshop. Cynthia Hill of Third Day Luxury Soaps returns to teach Soap Making From Scratch. Have you ever wanted to learn to waltz? Wayne Albright and Gaye Fifer have been waltzing together and teaching waltzing all over the country. They will offer a beginner workshop and no partner is necessary. The class will be followed by an open waltz session for all levels of dancers. Wine tasting classes fill fast, act now. Remember to check out the Zumba, Yoga, and Hip Hop classes. Small and big rooms and a kitchen are available for hourly rental. For more details visit www.wsccpgh.org, wsccpgh@yahoo.com, or call (412) 244- 8458.

EcoFest at Wilkins School

The 3rd Annual EcoFest is bigger than ever! Thanks to Free Ride, the center will be a collection site for old bikes during the EcoFest. Goodwill is coming and will take your broken and working computers during the EcoFest hours only. Not to worry.... Goodwill dismantles all computers safely and nothing is shipped overseas. Come to a workshop and learn how to make inexpensive, safe, environmentally kind cleaning products for your home. Hear a representative of the Sierra Club speak and take your questions about coal energy. Penn Future is bringing its Black and Gold City Goes Green Campaign to Regent Square. Come and see that small steps and efforts by many of us can make a big, big difference. Frick Park Nature Center will return with fun activities for children. Peg Schmidt is coordinating an art show by children and wants you to be a part of it. Look for more details about the art show and the EcoFest on the website. Homemade soup will be for sale too! Remember to bring your perennials. You bring, they plant! Ecofest will be held on Saturday, October 10 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For details, visit www.wsccpgh.org, wsccpgh@yahoo.com or call (412) 244-8458.

If you are paying in installments, you will receive a letter in September which will have the second and third installment amount in it. Please remember that they must be on time or there will be a 10% penalty. If you do not receive the other installments by the first of October, please call my office. The second installment is due by November 30 and the third by February 28. If you are dropping your payment off, and I am not in the office, you may place it in my mail slot at any time. ## Thank you

Thank you to all who supported the EVFD by buying chicken and rib dinners. We sold out for the second time. We would like to extend a very special thank you to Charlie Nied for his generous donation to the fire department this year. I hope the parade was to your liking and I would encourage all Edgewood organizations to start planning on participating in next year's parade early.

Next!

With Community Day out of the way we get a break until October. Our next adventure will be the annual hayride in conjunction with the haunted house. As soon as the dates and times are available, I will pass them on.

As always, if you are interested in joining the team, we are accepting applications. Stop by the station on Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. when we are there for training, or applications are available at the borough building.

Open House Fun

The 6th Annual Edgewood Police Department Open House was held in July. Attendees enjoyed delicious food, cookies and beverages and also viewed a canine demonstration and a puppet show put on by the Pittsburgh Puppet Works.

This year's big winners in the children's raffle were: Noah Stase – Eat 'n Park gift card, Noah Brighley – Game Stop gift card, Sophia Galambos – Pirate's tickets, Taryn Bramlet – Cold Stone Creamery gift card, Colin Davin – Pizza Hut gift card, and Jolene Augustine – a Penguin's hat. Treat bags were also provided so that everyone could leave a winner.

The Edgewood Police Department would like to take this opportunity to thank the following local business for their support: Eat 'n Park, Krohmaly's Printing, Game Stop, Neid's Funeral Home, and the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf for the use of their parking lot.

We would especially like to thank Giant Eagle Supermarket in Edgewood Towne Centre for their generous food donation for our event. We realize that we are very fortunate to have the support of our local businesses and community, which allows us the opportunity to host such events.

Thanks to all who participated in the open house including Erin Kelly from Head Start, Andrea McNeill from the Edgewood Library, Eastern Area Ambulance Service, Allegheny County employees and their 911 van, the Pittsburgh Puppet Works, and Monroeville Officer Paul Bodnar and his canine. Special thanks to all the participating borough employees, including the Department of Public Works, volunteer fire department, emergency services, and last, but definitely not least, the Edgewood Borough Police Officers. All worked hard to ensure a fun-filled event. Thanks to everyone who attended and we hope you enjoyed the day.

See you next year!

Police Tip of the Month

With bicycle theft on the rise, the safest place to keep your bike is locked inside your house, garage, or shed. That will keep it out of view and out of reach of any would be thieves.

Another Safe Community Day

We hope that everyone who endured the heat on Community Day stopped by the Edgewood Police Booth to pick up some crime prevention brochures, back to school supplies, or just stopped by to visit. Our first responsibility during Community Day is to ensure everyone is safe throughout the events. The closures of the streets for the race and parade couldn't be done without the assistance of our department of public works, school guards, Allegheny County Sheriff's Reserve, and all the race officials who volunteered their time. Thanks to everyone that worked with us to help us accomplish our goal. Congratulations to Rick Gusic, the race coordinator, for another successful race.

This year, for the first time, we invited Guardian Protection, who completed child fingerprinting, helping us to ensure parents are prepared in case of an emergency. It is very important your child's personal information is archived, for your child's safety. Thank you to Thomas Zabielski and his assistant for their great work!

Congratulations to the winners of the children's raffle. A few of the prizes awarded were: a Pittsburgh Penguin's game hockey stick signed by Miroslav Satan #81, several items signed by Arizona Cardinal Steve Breaston (Woodland Hills Native), gift cards, DVDs, signed Pittsburgh Steeler's merchandise, and several free pizzas from Vocelli Pizza. Thank you to everyone that donated items for the raffle, including Vocelli Pizza, Game Stop, and Mayor Davin.

I would also like to extend gratitude to the police officers that withstood the heat and made it a safe event for all, from the start to the finish line.

Earn Up To $2,500 In Tax Credits By Making Your Home 'Visitable'

The Visitability Tax Credit is a new tax incentive to help residents make their homes accessible to friends or family who use wheelchairs or have trouble climbing stairs. Even if you currently do not know anyone who has a mobility limitation, you are still eligible for this tax credit. You should consider making your home visitable now. You, a family member, or even a friend may need these design advantages in the future. The tax credit is worth up to $2,500 and can be spread over the course of five years. Making your home 'visitable' is not a difficult task, especially when building a new home or doing other renovations. This tax credit will be helpful to offset construction costs. While renovating or constructing a new home, simply keep a few design features in mind:

- Each residence must have at least one no-step entrance into the main floor of the home, which can be located on the front, rear, or at the side of the residence. The entrance must be firm, stable, and slip resistant.
- Hallways on the floor with the no-step entrance must be thirty-six inches wide.
- There must be a powder room or bathroom which can be used by a person in a wheelchair located on the main floor of the home.

- Light switches on the main floor must be mounted at forty-two inches above the floor, and door handles must be lever-type rather than knobs.

The Allegheny County Visitability Tax Credit was created in 2008 by the County Executive and County Council with advice from leaders of the Allegheny County disability community. The goal of this tax credit is to make Allegheny County homes user-friendly for people with mobility impairments so that friends and family members with and without disabilities can get together in each other's homes easily. This also ensures that homes will be usable for the owners throughout their life span.

Allegheny County encourages all residents to make their homes 'visitable.' Residents can find out more about the specific requirements and the application process from their local municipal office when applying for a building permit. For more information, contact Richard Meritzer, staff person for the City of Pittsburgh/Allegheny County Task Force on Disabilities, at richard.meritzer@city.pittsburgh.pa.us or call (412) 255-2102.

New Website Gives Charitable Information

C. C. Mellor Memorial Library and Edgewood Community House is pleased to be part of the September 8 launch of PittsburghGives, a web-based directory of nonprofit organizations sponsored by the Pittsburgh Foundation. PittsburghGives is a unique resource designed to enrich donors' knowledge about the nonprofit sector and encourage charitable giving in our region. Vital facts about C.C. Mellor's management, finances, and programs have been drawn together to create a detailed portrait with the goal of enabling donors to be better informed.

October 28 is PittsburghGives Day of Giving where the Pittsburgh Foundation will match 50 cents to the dollar to any online credit card contributions of at least $50. More information on the Day of Giving will follow in early October.

Meanwhile, to see C.C. Mellor's portrait, log on to PittsburghGives at www.pittsburghgives.org. On the top right hand side, under "Find Nonprofits" enter C. C. Mellor.
